LIVING HIGH.—Col. Charles B. Montgomery, a noted filibuster, has just arrived in this country from Honduras. He says he found a regular nest of absconders, there, including Frank P. BANNER DAY.—The third day of the Lexington fair was the biggest success the Elks have yet attained since the fair was instituted in that city. It is estimated that with paid admission, complimentary and other sources, fully 20,000 people were assembled on the grounds and which constituted the second largest aggregation of humanity that has ever occurred in the history of Lexington. The drawing feature was the collision of the two monster engines, which took place on schedule time and was a success.

Doesn't It Look a Little Strange?

In our notice in last issue in regard to the workings of the building committee of our new court house we failed to give in round numbers how much lower were the bids of Mr. J. T. Hinton on the furniture than the foreign firm bidding against him. On the first grade of furniture, he is $1,900 lower; on the second grade, $1,100 lower; on the third grade, $400 lower. Now to be candid about the matter, doesn't it look a little strange that this committee should hesitate the way it is doing in not giving Mr. Hinton this contract? The matter is still tied up in the committee and will not be settled until next Tuesday, and maybe not then, for we understand that one of the committee now says he is in favor of steel chairs. It is to be hoped that when they meet, Tuesday, they will at once let this contract to our home merchant, who is asking no favors, but has put in the lowest bid, and there is no reason why he should not receive the contract.

The contest is on the first grade only—Mr. Hinton's bid being $1,900 lower than Ehmer Bros.

BUY NOW.—Those beautiful porch chairs and refrigerators on display at Hinton's can be bought cheap if you purchase now. 1t

LARGE STOCK.—Buy the baby one of those nice baby buggies while they are so cheap at J. T. Hinton's. 1t

It Is Up To The Jury.

The last argument at Cynthiana was made yesterday and with the jury rests the decision whether organized crime or justice, assassination or law, Kentucky or Breathitt is the stronger. No half-way verdict will answer the question. Kentucky can or cannot enforce her own laws. This is the matter at issue, and it is for the jury to determine. It is a time big with consequences to the State.

The case went to the jury at 10:55 yesterday morning, and at 8:30 last night had reached no verdict. It looks very much like a hung jury. Jett was laughing and talking to Deputy Sheriff Lail late in the afternoon, and said: "By God, the rope has not been grown yet with which to hang me."

FOR RENT.—One front room, with board. Apply at Baptist parsonage 1t

Hon. Horace Miller Found Dead In Bed.

Hon. Horace Miller, one of Bourbon county's most prominent citizens, was found dead in bed yesterday morning about 7 o'clock, at his farm near this city. Mr. Miller had been quite complaining for the past two weeks, suffering from neuralgia of the heart, but was on our streets Wednesday and seemed to be enjoying good health. About ten days ago he had a severe attack with his heart at his town residence, on Duncan avenue, but he said he had about recovered from the effects of it. Mr. Miller was an affable and courteous gentleman, and his many friends will regret to hear of his sudden demise.

Mr. Miller had been up and partaken of hearty breakfast, and had told a young man who was working for him, to call him when Mr. Hibler came to look at some sheep. The boy went to call him and found him dead on his bed with his clothes on. We understand that his physician, Dr. Vansant, had told him if he went to his farm he would be taking his life in his own hands.

Mr. Miller was born near Millersburg, Ky., October 17th, 1831, making him about 72 years of age. He was the only son of Mr. Horace Miller, an early pioneer of this county, who died of cholera in 1833. His mother was Miss Caroline Forsythe, daughter of Benjamin and Anna Tarney Forsythe. Benjamin Forsythe emigrated from Virginia to Kentucky at an early day, locating in Bourbon county. His paternal grandfather was Mr. Robt. E. Miller, an early settler in this county, and a large land and slave owner.

Mr. Miller was educated at Bethany College under the tutelage of Alexander Campbell. January 8, 1852, he married Miss Susan Bonaparte Dorsey, a native of New Orleans, who departed this life about one year ago. Since the age of twelve he has been identified with the Christian Church, of which he was one of the official members; in politics, Democratic, and was one of the Curators of Kentucky University at Lexington.

Mr. Miller only had one child, a daughter, who died about the beginning of the late civil war, but adopted two orphan girls, whom he raised—Mrs. Frank P. Clay, Jr., of this county, and Mrs. Fannie DePugh, of Salt Lake City, Utah.

He had been a farmer all his life, but after selling his beautiful country home, "New Forrest," he bought a handsome residence on Duncan avenue and moved to town, on account of the poor health of his wife. In a short time he purchased another farm, where he spent part of his time, and it was on this place where he died. He was always a successful man in business and leaves a large estate.

Funeral services will be held at the Christian church, Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, conducted by Elder Carey Morgan. Pall-bearers will be officers of the church.

Picnic An Assured Success.

The Committee in charge of the A. O. U. W. Picnic to be held at the Fair Grounds on next Thursday, August 20th, have assurance of attendance enough to warrant them in the belief that the picnic will be a record breaker.

Besides Governor Beckham and his staff almost every prominent official in Frankfort, all of whom are members of the order, will be present. All the grand officers of the Grand Lodge of the State will be here, and there will be more "big bugs" in Paris on that day than has been seen for many years.

The picnic itself will be a hummer. It will in fact be one entire day of fun. One of the most interesting events of the day will be the baby show. There are already eight entries, and the committee expect fully twenty-five before the day of the picnic. The fireworks, including a mammoth set piece emblematical of the order have arrived. The celebrated First Regiment Band, of Cincinnati, will arrive the evening before and will give concerts on Main street the next morning up to 10 o'clock. "Pat Rooney," the monkey balloonist, will arrive on the evening previous and the ascension will be made at 11 o'clock in the forenoon. This is a feature no one should miss.

The mammoth dancing platform will give everyone an opportunity to "trip the light fantastic toe" until a late hour. The different athletic sports will all have numerous entries. The merry-go-round will be a joy forever for the children. Everybody is invited to come early, bring the children, and stay late.

DEATHS.

—Miss Edna Earl Speaks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Speaks, died at her home on the Ruddells Mills pike, on Thursday morning, about 2 o'clock, of typhoid fever. It is sad in any instance when a sweet child is taken from her parents by death, but it is particularly sad in this case. Edna Earl had been preparing for some time to give a birthday party, but instead of the party the grim reaper of death claimed her on her fifteenth birthday. Truly a sad death. Funeral this morning, at 10 o'clock, at the residence, conducted by Rev. Brooks.
